Figure 1 is a 3D bar chart titled 'Number of children per woman by country and education level'. The vertical axis represents the 'Number of children per woman' ranging from 0 to 6. The horizontal axis lists four countries: Cote d'Ivoire, Egypt, India, and Kenya. The depth axis represents education levels: Illiterate, Primary, Secondary, and Tertiary. The bars show that fertility is highest for illiterate women (around 4-5 children) and lowest for tertiary-educated women (around 1-2 children). Fertility rates generally decrease as education level increases across all countries.

Power crisis looms over Panay

By David P. Villa

Manila

A power crisis is brewing in Panay, with the island province facing a shortage of electricity supply. The problem is compounded by the fact that the island's power plants are old and inefficient, and the transmission lines are outdated.

The power crisis in Panay is a result of several factors. First, the island's power plants are old and inefficient, and the transmission lines are outdated. Second, the island's power demand is increasing rapidly, and the supply is not keeping pace with the demand.

The power crisis in Panay is a serious problem that needs to be addressed. The government should invest in new power plants and transmission lines to increase the island's electricity supply. The private sector should also be encouraged to invest in the power industry.
